

November 19, 2013

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing on behalf of Ms. Lori Petro, who I have known for several years as a parent educator /advocate, facilitator, teaching coach, and founder of "The Teach Through Love" project imitative. I have also invited Lori to speak as a guest lecturer for my education classes at; Community College of Philadelphia, West Chester University graduate class, and Drexel University both undergraduate and graduate classes.

I have found Lori to be an esteemed and knowledgeable colleague and clearly a dedicated and strong advocate in her work with families to support and promote responsive and respectful teacher- parenting training and education.

I have observed Lori as a skilled technician, facilitator, and orator in the areas of education, family systems and communication skills; for teachers, parents, administrators, and community leaders. It is with her joy and commitment that Lori presents sound principles of brain development, educational pedagogy and practice,, and respectful and responsive parenting.. All of these investments of Lori's work, indeed promote conscious, compassionate communication skills for families, teachers, and the community for our children now and for their future.

Professionally yours,

Amy W. Saia, Ed.D

Amy.W.Saia@drexel.edu

Drexel University School of Education